

Find and Go to a Specific Line
WordPerfect Magazine
Tips

The included LINE.WPM macro asks you what line you want your cursor on and then places it there for you. This is useful if you have a large document and need to find, for example, line 340.

To run this macro, press (Alt-F10), type "line" and press (Enter). Type the line number you want and press (Enter). Your cursor is immediately taken to the specific line number. You may want to rename this to an Alt-Letter macro to make it even more useful.